AutoAce Professional

Are your customers tired of being put on hold because you're digging for their information?

Welcome to AutoAce Professional - The number one choice for dealerships all over the country. Dealerships around the world have a common goal — To sell vehicles, and keep their customers happy. One of the most important aspects after the sell of a vehicle is the communication between the customer and the dealership, preferably the sales person that handled the deal. It is difficult for a sales person to have to worry about selling a vehicle, and maintaining a positive relationship with the buyer, especially in huge volume environments. To make a sales person's life easier, I have developed AutoAce, a system that tracks prospects, customers, etc. Have you ever had to put a potential customer on hold to dig through piles of sticky notes just to find out what they were originally looking for? Have you ever regretted not sending out that one year follow-up letter to see how your customer was doing? Have there been days where it is almost impossible to remember 'who got what' letter sent to them? Perhaps AutoAce Professional will be the answer you are looking for! AutoAce is packed with several features, yet, at the same time, is kept so simple that your three year old can operate it! Yes, that's true. All it takes is a couple of mouse clicks and your mailings are all taken care of for that day. Isn't that awesome? You don't have to worry about sorting letters, etc. Take a look at some of the features:

Ease of Use

AutoAce Professional's design has been kept extremely simple. Whether you're an experienced computer user, or just have mastered turning it on/off, you will feel right at home with AutoAce Professional. The toolbar, as well as the handy 'side bar' gives you quick access to features you use most often, and the menu is kept simple so that you don't waste time looking through un-needed items. Some items, such as the "Daily Mailer" is a one-click process—the software will generate the appropriate letters with that one click!

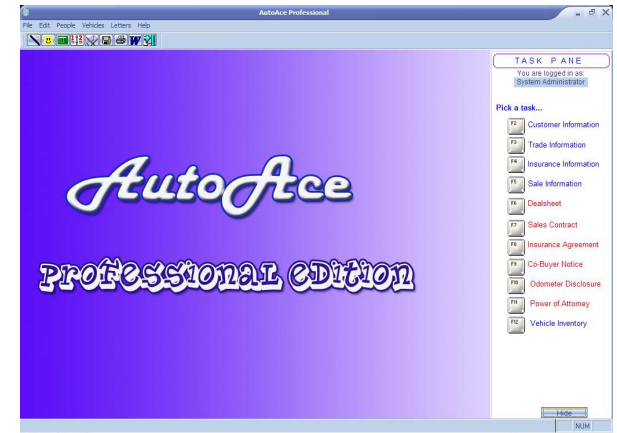

* Too many features to list here! Visit the AutoAce website at <http://www.myautoace.com> now!*

Powerful Capabilities

Tired of handwriting letters? Re-typing forms? Tired of scrounging around looking for cheesy "Thank You" notes to send to your customers? Embarrassed because you get Joe's son "Kevin" confused with Randy's son "Justin"? AutoAce Professional tracks all of that information for you! Upgradeable? Sure! AutoAce Professional's modular design allows for seamless upgrades, and additions to the software. Reports (Letters) can be customized to the way YOU want them—there is no need to settle for a "one size fits all" letter. Would you like to know how you've done in your sales? AutoAce Professional can give you quarterly / annual reports of your progress. Reports can also be created to suit whatever need you may have!

Easily track customers, sales, prospects, print sale forms, etc, and get your sale volume up!
